I created this 3D web project for a project fair, which took over two months in total. On the final day, I was announced as the winner.
I had used some of the new technologies used recently such as: Three Js, Framer motion, Tailwind, Apple HLS video streaming technology, React Video, React router dom and React Js.

Free-custom-api-4u

As a full-stack developer, I created this tool because I never saw a website / tool that generates custom API based on user selection. So, I built this tool to help developers, users, and students who are learning and need an easy way to create APIs.

Yantra-Design

This website is both designed and developed by me, it has a modern website design look for a CNC based company named Yantra-Design.
Its features are smooth scrolling, attractive design and a modern look, CSS only scroll driven animations, Header & image slider are made through CSS for better performance, SVG path animation on scroll in the products.html page.

Data Science Frontend design
